We're headed to Europe from January to August 2023 and we're renting out our lovely house in the Fishtown neighborhood of Philadelphia. It would be perfect for people visiting Temple University or any other university in town for the Spring semester. We have three bedrooms, a den and one bathroom, in addition to a living room, dining room and kitchen, as well as a patio. Plenty of closet space and a basement with laundry (washer and dryer.) The neighborhood is very walkable, has excellent restaurants, cafes and bars, as well as fantastic grocery stores and supermarkets within walking distance. Also within walking distance to subway stations and easy access to I-95 and the Franklin Bridge (easy commute to south Jersey.) Rent is $2000 a month, including water, electricity and gas (up to $100 a month each). DM us for more details and pictures, raz.segal@gmail.com
